

I think that approving cross-ownership of newspapers and broadcasting would not serve the public interest. That narrow control of news is harmful when we need unbiased coverage of world events. The BBC is an example of a good source of news